FCC COMMISSIONER JESSICA ROSENWORCEL ANNOUNCES NEW STAFF

Washington, DC—FCC Commissioner Jessica Rosenworcel today announced the appointment of Valery Galasso as Confidential Assistant and Special Advisor and Priscilla Delgado Argeris as Legal Advisor.

“I am delighted that both of these accomplished individuals are joining my office,” said Commissioner Rosenworcel. “Their strong backgrounds in communications policy and mix of experience in the public sector and private sector will mean good counsel for my office and exceptional support for the important work ahead at the Commission.”

Valery Galasso will serve as Confidential Assistant and Special Advisor. She previously served as a Special Assistant for Legislative Affairs in the Office of Vice President Joseph R. Biden, Jr. In this role, she managed day-to-day operations in the Vice President’s Senate office. She also served as a liaison to congressional offices, with responsibility for researching legislative issues, processing Member requests, and monitoring House and Senate floor activity. Ms. Galasso previously served as a Graduate Fellow at the Office of Congressional Affairs at the National Telecommunications and Information Administration at the U.S. Department of Commerce. She received her undergraduate degree from the University of Connecticut and a Master of Arts in Public Policy with a concentration in Science and Technology Policy from Johns Hopkins University.

Priscilla Delgado Argeris will serve as legal advisor with responsibility for wireline and consumer issues. She previously served as an associate at the law firm Wiley Rein, where she focused regulatory and litigation matters involving federal and state communications law. She is a member of the American Bar Association, Hispanic National Bar Association, and Federal Communications Bar Association. Prior to law school, Ms. Argeris worked as a legal assistant at PG&E National Energy Group. Ms. Argeris received her undergraduate degree from Princeton University. She received her law degree from New York University School of Law, where she served as Articles Editor of the Journal of International Law and Politics.
